Civil Advocacy Series: Getting at the Facts

Shaping the Facts from the Outset

PRESENTER: Paul G. Chiswell

Start your case off with the best possible facts through effective demand letters, pre-pleading discovery, and powerful pleadings.

Getting the Facts from the Record

PRESENTER: Allison Kuntz

Relevant records are critical in litigation matters. Consider which records you need and how to get, inspect, or preserve them. Compile and use the record to understand and argue your case.

Getting the Facts from Questioning

PRESENTER: Randal S. Van de Mosselaer

Ensure that your transcript is useful at trial. Enhance your questioning skills. Develop strategies to come up with proper question topics, use records effectively, conceal the purpose of questions, get useful undertakings, compel answers, deal with objections from counsel, and more.

Identifying and Dealing with Fraudulent Facts

PRESENTER: Shauna N. Finlay

How should you deal with false documents in the electronic age? Understand how the use of forensic accountants and other experts, Anton Pillar orders, preservation orders, injunctions, and other processes can support your case. Confidently meet fraudulent facts head on.

Proving the Facts at Trial

PRESENTER: Hon. Justice S.M. Sanderman

Introducing effective and admissible evidence at trial is key to the success of your case. Improve your examination-in-chief and cross-examination techniques.
