Session enrolment is limited. Students are encouraged to register early; preferences are granted on a first-come, first-served basis.

Attendance is mandatory. Dates are subject to change. Detailed schedules will be sent to confirmed applicants.

Students should remember to consult with their articling firms, wherever possible, before making their selections. This helps ensure that session preferences take into account the interests of the principal, the law firm, and the applicant.

Online

All students are enrolled in the following modules:

Legal Research & Writing:	August 22, 2019 to September 12, 2019
Drafting Pleadings:	September 26, 2019 to October 17, 2019
Drafting Contracts:	October 24, 2019 to November 14, 2019
Written Advice & Advocacy:	November 28, 2019 to December 19, 2019
Ethics & Professionalism:	January 16, 2020 to January 23, 2020
Practice Management:*	February 6, 2020 to February 27, 2020
Client Relationship Management:*	March 12, 2020 to April 2, 2020
Trust Accounting:	Self-study, due April 2, 2020
Indigenous Canada:	Self-study, due April 2, 2020

Online modules open at 4 p.m. on the start date. This is the earliest that students can access their course work. During a module, online submissions are due before 4 p.m. each Thursday. Deadlines are strictly enforced, unless prior approval in writing has been granted.

Students can complete the Trust Accounting and Indigenous Canada self-study courses at any time during the CPLED year. To avoid delaying their bar admission, students must obtain a certificate of completion by April 2, 2020.

* Students must arrange to have an invigilator oversee their Practice Management and Client Relationship Management Competency Evaluations.

The registration deadline is May 31, 2019. Students who do not apply by this date are subject to a non-refundable late filing fee.

Documentation and fees are due July 26, 2019. Students whose documentation and fees are not received by this date may have their applications cancelled and/or be delayed entry into the CPLED Program.

Supplemental competency evaluations are scheduled during the Reserve Period that runs April 2, 2020 to June 25, 2020.
